

Jamie Burkart

Technical Project Manager - Product Operations & Implementation

Brooklyn, NY | Contact: jamieburk.art/contact | Public-safe resume summary

Profile

Technical project manager with 14+ years creating operating structure between stakeholders, product, documentation, implementation, and public-facing systems. Strong in complex, resource-constrained, early-stage, civic, small-business, cultural, and public-interest environments where teams need clear requirements, reusable workflows, reliable handoffs, adoption support, and durable documentation.

Core Capabilities

- Product operations and implementation: requirements, workflow maps, user stories, acceptance criteria, decision logs, action trackers, rollout planning, UAT / QA support, stakeholder updates, adoption materials, and handoff documentation.
- Knowledge systems and documentation: documentation architecture, meeting synthesis, source maps, shared-drive structure, public guidance, resource libraries, reusable templates, and durable reference systems.
- Web, open-data, and civic technology: JavaScript / TypeScript, Node.js, React / Next.js, Ember.js, Python / Django, SQL, Git / GitHub, Docker / Dokku, QGIS, open-data workflows, dataset documentation, and API / data-product requirements.

Selected Impact

- Led web, e-commerce, marketing, analytics, and operations improvements for Harry J. Epstein Company, contributing to 2x revenue growth while helping an 80+ year-old legacy industrial business adapt to e-commerce.
- Built CallNYC.org after a New York City Council civic-data hackathon, translating constituent-services open data into resident-facing find-help / next-step guidance.
- Built and stewarded 30+ pages of shared campaign-memory and coordination infrastructure for Commercial Rent Stabilization collaboration work, keeping public, open, and protected material separate.
- Co-built WOWList.org, a Python / Django + Ember.js community-calendar platform adopted by DIY arts and music organizers across roughly 35 city ecosystems.
- Created repeatable hosting, onboarding, facilitation, documentation, and continuity systems documenting 300+ gatherings and supporting 20+ resident artists.

Experience

THICK ARTS - Founder, Technical Project Manager & Web Systems Lead | 2012-Present

- Deliver maintainable publishing systems, campaign hubs, e-commerce workflows, documentation infrastructure, resource libraries, and post-launch maintenance.
- Translate stakeholder needs into requirements, information architecture, content models, technical scopes, implementation plans, public-facing interfaces, launch plans, maintenance workflows, and handoff documentation.

NYC Artist Coalition / FairRentNYC - Civic Systems, Coalition Operations & Policy Communications | 2017-Present

- Create shared documentation and coordination systems, including running minutes, action trackers, source maps, call scripts, QR pathways, public handouts, stakeholder follow-up systems, and report-back materials.
- Translate policy, public-data, and coalition needs into practical materials for campaigns and public-facing civic work, using public-safe collective-work language.

WOWList.org - Co-Founder, Product & Community Systems | 2015-2020

- Co-built a community event-calendar and distribution platform organized around user-followed keyword communities and lightweight organizer publishing workflows.

196 Artists Residency / Sunday Dinner - Founder & Systems Steward | 2012-Present

- Founded care-forward residency and recurring community-building practices supported by intake, onboarding, scheduling, hospitality, facilitation, documentation, and continuity systems.

KC Town Hall LLC - Co-Founder & Project Manager, Historic Restoration / Mixed-Use Development | 2015-2024

- Co-led redevelopment planning and public-benefit documentation for adaptive reuse of a long-vacant historic building into mixed-use commercial and residential space.

Education and Professional Development

- AI Evals for Engineers & PMs - Shreya Shankar & Hamel Husain / Maven, 2026.
- University of California, Santa Cruz - B.A., Film & Digital Media, Honors.
